Nisan 1999 mission statement is based on experimentation as a medium to develop artwork. Being a very young creative collaboration between Claudia and Alfonso, they are currently working on a initial discovery phase and learning about sharing studio space, tools, references and materials.

Nisan 1999 mediums are diverse. They enjoy working with traditional mediums such painting, printmaking and sculpture and also with video, installations and mix-media.

Currently they are learning more about the possibilities of digital photography, professional lighting and stop motion animation. If you are in Gowanus, Brooklyn and you feel like stopping by their studio, just drop them an email.

So far the results are playful, fun and very eclectic. This new venture is open for collaboration with other artists that may be interested in this type of creative process.
