CHOW MARTIN

Chow Martin is a 27 year old artist/illustrator who divides his time between London, England and Toronto, Canada. A recent grad of the Ontario College of Art and Design, Chow currently works with Heist-Toronto; a boutique art direction and graphic design studio servicing the fashion, arts and cultural markets.

His work questions the value of creating images in a contemporary landscape dominated by digital technology and digital means of image making; it is an exploration of the interaction of oppositional forces at a material, physical and psychological level. This explosive, dynamic and violent interaction is conveyed through the use of imagery and the physical act of mark making itself.
